

Dear BICI Global Gathering Delegate,

In October of 2022, Bloomberg Philanthropies, in partnership with the Global Designing Cities Initiative (GDCI), launched the Bloomberg Initiative for Cycling Infrastructure (BICI) — a competitive grant program supporting 10 cities around the world in building safe, connected, and sustainable city cycling infrastructure. We are proud to share that Quelimane, Mozambique has been selected to participate in this prestigious global initiative.

As an instrumental member of the Quelimane, Mozambique city delegation, we cordially invite you to participate at the Bloomberg Initiative for Cycling Infrastructure (BICI) Global Gathering. The event will be held between June 26 - 29, 2023, at the Bloomberg European Headquarters in London, UK. During the event, 80 city leaders and transportation practitioners from cities all over the world will come together and exchange industry ideas, strategies, and research from across the globe.

The goal of this gathering is to formally kick off BICI. During the event, city delegations will meet with BICI technical experts to discuss and refine their projects and receive technical feedback. Attendance is a requirement and will be crucial to each city's program success. We look forward to learning from your industry expertise. Airfare, accommodation, transportation, meals, and other expenses will be funded by program organizers.

Please contact me with any questions or if I can be of further assistance.

With gratitude,

Janette Sadik-Khan
Board Chair
Global Designing Cities Initiative

James Anderson
Head of Government Innovation Programs
Bloomberg Philanthropies